Additional Fee Information:

PLEASE READ THIS DOCUMENT CAREFULLY!

The fee per counseling/consulting session is $100, payable at the time services are rendered. Though I don't accept insurance, at your request I will be happy to provide documentation for you to submit to your insurance company. Most clients are very successful in receiving refunds for at least part of what they pay for counseling sessions, and in many cases they receive refunds of half or more of the session fee.

There may be times when my fee will change, and I will notify you of this in writing if that occurs.

Please be aware that you must give at least 24 hours notice if you wish to cancel an appointment or the full $100.00 fee will be charged. In addition, it is my policy to charge interest on bills 30 days overdue and to hand over neglected bills to a collection agency or an attorney.

If you understand and agree with these terms, please sign two copies of this agreement and retain one for your records.
